Vessel Information

Description: 2022 Pacific Marine 31 Express
Offshore Capability Meets Practical Comfort

Presenting this 2022 Pacific Marine 31 Express, a well-appointed and highly capable offshore vessel built on the renowned Black Watch hull, delivering exceptional handling and performance in a variety of sea conditions. Designed with serious fishing and comfortable cruising in mind, she offers a versatile layout that will appeal to both anglers and weekend adventurers alike.

Purpose-Built Cockpit & Fishing Features

The expansive cockpit is tailored for fishing, featuring both fresh and saltwater washdowns, an Isotherm fridge, tackle drawers, kill tanks, LED spreader lights, and power sockets for electric reels. A tender is also neatly positioned at the transom, enhancing onboard versatility and access.

Helm & Navigation

Stepping forward, the helm station is thoughtfully laid out with adjacent seating, creating a comfortable and social driving position. The helm is equipped with twin 10" Garmin touchscreen displays, a Volvo engine management screen, windlass control, bow thruster, and VHF radio, everything required for confident navigation and control offshore.

Comfortable Interior Accommodation

Below deck, the cabin is intelligently designed for overnight stays. A functional galley includes a benchtop, microwave, sink, and an additional 65L fridge. Accommodation comprises a forward double berth and a generous single berth aft, comfortably sleeping three. A fully enclosed bathroom with toilet and shower adds to the onboard convenience, making extended trips both practical and enjoyable.

Performance & Mechanical

Powered by a Volvo D6 400 diesel engine, this vessel delivers a comfortable cruising speed of approximately 20 knots and a top speed of around 26 knots. With all annual servicing and antifoul completed, she is presented ready for immediate use and inspection.
